Paving the way for the entire resale industry the advertising firm has proven to be the most effective solution to selling and renting time at luxury resorts from around the world.

Wes Kogelman, President and CEO of BuyATimeshare.com has offered this unique service since 2000. The company has grown to provide a vast inventory of premium destinations and the most active marketplace of buyers and renters in the history of timeshare resales.

While other companies seem to disappear just as quickly as they appear, BuyA Timeshare.com is the most reliable timeshare resale company online. Over $300 million in timeshares sold and more than 1 million satisfied timeshare consumers. More vacationers and timeshare owners look to BuyATimeshare.com for inexpensive vacation properties to fit all travel needs.

The Timeshare concept has evolved dramatically over time. Recently the economy has shifted with the onset of the current downturn squeezing households and freezing consumer spending. The once thriving hospitality industry is being cut out of many budgets and people who were once avid world travelers have begun to explore more local destinations as the staycation reached acclaim in the summer of 2007. BuyATimeshare.com has been able to bring luxury vacations to people for 10 successful years, allowing them to secure an inexpensive timeshare for local hotel prices.

A decade of customer satisfaction has brought this firm from a small office in Tampa, Florida to one of the largest companies of its kind. The timeshare sector has undergone staffing cuts and property loss due to slowed consumer spending. Occupancy at the resorts however, remains strong. Travelers from all over the world are experiencing the financial and personal benefits of vacationing through the resale market.
